

Commas: Instructor Suggestions

Ask students to listen to the podcast "Commas: Oxford, Appositive, Nonrestrictive" and then have them write a short response discussing and reflecting on the experience. (Remember that students can also read the text on the Grammar Girl website.)

Questions for Students to Consider

Have students consider the following questions:

- How is listening to information about a topic different from reading about it? How is it the same?
- How do the host's tone and voice impact the listener's experience?
- What does the host do to connect with the listener?
- What new information did the student learn about commas? Can they pinpoint any element of the podcast that helped them remember this new information?

Ad-free versions of the podcasts and word-for-word transcripts are available through Macmillan Learning's Achieve and LaunchPad products. To learn more about digital products and purchasing options, please visit Macmillan's English catalog or ask your sales representative.

Commas: Student Instructions

Listen to the podcast "Commas: Oxford, Appositive, Nonrestrictive" and then write a short response discussing and reflecting on the experience. (Remember that you can also read the text on the Grammar Girl website.)

Questions to Consider

- How is listening to information about a topic different from reading about it? How is it the same?
- How do the host's tone and voice impact the listener's experience?
- What does the host do to connect with the listener?
- What new information did the student learn about commas? Can they pinpoint any element of the podcast that helped them remember this new information?